WILL NOT GO TO COURT

Council and Property Owners Decide on a Price

FOR THE FOURTH STREET ROAD

It Will Be a Nice Driveway to the West End, and Will Not Cost a Mint of Money—The Total Amount Comparatively Low.

When council met last night in special session to consider the compromise price on the land required to extend Fourth street it was hot. The temperature showed a marked inclination to flirt with the 90 mark, and all the breeze stirring about city hall would not have moved the pointer of an anemometer with lightning rapidity. They met, but not before it was found that the cemetery association occupied the chamber. Engineer George's office was the hottest place in the building, and Jack Kaiser was amusing a crowd in the mayor's office. With this state of affairs they could do nothing but meet in the jail or police court, and they choose the latter.

Councilman Owen called for order after making numerous attempts to push up a window, and the little knot of spectators mopped their perspiring brows and awaited developments. Horwell, Challis, Kent and Stewart were the councilmen present when the chairman announced the object of the meeting, and Walter B. Hill, as attorney for some of the land owners, stated his position. He said that the land he represented was owned by Messrs. Hill, Kelly and Brunt, and if cut into lots would make six lots, each 30 by 100 feet. To illustrate the generosity of their offer to the city he reminded them that J. M. Aten had purchased an acre of ground, almost identical in formation, and nearby in location, from Councilman Peake, and had paid him $2,700 for it. The owners of the ground, however, offered it to the city for $1,000. The strip wanted from Aten was 1,000 feet long, he believed, and was worth $1,500. Mr. George then presented an elaborate plat of the territory, showing the location of the road, and it was carefully examined by the members. The plat was explained by the engineer from the point where the road left the Fourth street bluff to where it joins Jethro road. Richard Thompson submitted the proposition of $700 for his mother, Mrs. Thompson. The attorney fee and $25 had been cut away from the original demand to save, if possible, a case in court, but it asked for interest on the amount allowed by common pleas court on April 7, 1892. It also developed that J. M. Aten controlled three-fourths of the property belonging to the Davidson heirs, but this could be secured for $300, while $100 would satisfy the owners of the Curry property. The Golding property could be purchased for $500. The plat shows that the road after passing through the Thompson, Davidson, Curry and Golding properties turns toward Jethro road taking 20 feet, each from the glass works property and the ball ground for a short distance, and then cutting an equal amount from the park and the property of Mr. Aten.

Before the statement was made President Marshall arrived, and the voice of John Peake was heard among the councilmen. They, too, looked at the plat, and business was resumed. Clerk Hanley read the ordinance, and Mr. Owen moved the proposition be accepted. George Viney had not understood that half the expense was to be levied against the property owners, and in behalf of Mrs. Thompson objected. At length the whole matter was satisfactorily adjusted, and council adjourned, very glad to get away from the hot, stifling room. The propositions as accepted are as follows: Hill and Brunt $1,000; J. M. Aten $1,500; Davidson heirs, $300; Mrs. Thompson, $825. If to these amounts are added the estimated strength of the Curry, Golding and Davidson requests, the total will be $4,325.

SANT'S BILL AGAIN.

Like Banquo's Ghost it Will Not Down.

As the ghost of Banquo was prone to appear at all unexpected times, so does the bill of John Sant for collecting the Dow tax watch every opportunity to make its existence known. A member of council who was diametrically opposed to the bill when it was turned down last week is said to be experiencing, or has already experienced, a change of heart. As the bill can be brought to life at any moment, the change of one vote would change the whole aspect of affairs. The member in question talked freely last night, and it is believed by some of its friends that the bill will be resurrected, another vote taken, and the city will pay.

GOING TO SPRING GROVE.

The Pleasant Resort Will Soon be Populated.

Spring Grove is already attracting attention from its friends, and some have taken up a residence there. At present the Weeks, Ashbaugh and Harker cottages are occupied, and John Seaton, C. E. Macrum, E. M. Crosser, Joseph Chetwynd and the Herbert families will move out this week. The Dennis and Malone cottages on the Wellsville side are already occupied, and the Stevenson and Andrews families will move during the week. The camp ground presents a pretty appearance, and by the end of next week almost all the cottages will be occupied.

C. R. Buehler.

Many East Liverpool residents are acquainted with C. R. Buehler, of McDonald, Pa. He is a hustler from away back, being engaged in various enterprises at McDonald, and pushing them to the limit. In a characteristic letter to the manager of the News Review, he sends greeting to all friends in this section.

KAISER IS A BAD MAN

Said He Would "Fix" His Daughter Because

SHE TESTIFIED AGAINST HIM

The Mayor Binds Him to Court in the Sum of $500—Some Sensational Testimony Produced Last Night at a Brief But Lively Hearing.

John Brighthouse's hearing before Mayor Gilbert last night on a charge of cutting Fred Wolfe with intent to kill proved just as interesting as expected, and in some portions decidedly sensational.

A long delay was caused by the inability of the officers to find four witnesses the defense had subpoenaed yesterday afternoon. The information was given by Frank Dickey that they told him they were going across the river until the case was disposed of. As they could not be found it was decided to have no further delay, and the hearing proceeded.

Charles Doty was the first witness called. He testified that on Saturday last he was walking down Walnut street when he saw Jack Kaiser and Fred Wolfe talking on the sidewalk. Kaiser called Wolfe some names and accused him of being one of the people that had led his daughter Lizzie away. Wolfe denied this and Kaiser accused him again. Kaiser wanted to lick Wolfe and said he would whip three or four others who were up to the same tricks. Wolfe offered to whip Kaiser and Kaiser hurried back and pulled out his knife. Wolfe kicked at him and Kaiser kicked in return and Wolfe stumbled and fell. Then Kaiser cut him behind the left ear. "I was within 25 feet of them," concluded the witness.

Kaiser had no attorney so he was allowed to question the witness. His first query was:

"Didn't he call me a peg leg —?"

Doty—No sir.

Kaiser—Now remember you are on oath; you must tell the truth. Didn't he call me that first?

Doty—I am swearing to the truth and I say he did not.

Charles Peltou was sworn and testified that he saw Kaiser coming from McNicol's pottery on the day in question and later saw his daughter Lizzie cut across the street. Then Kaiser began to call Wolfe down. Wolfe was trying to explain it and they walked together until they reached the Goodwin pottery. While they were walking along Kaiser reached down and pulled a pen knife out of his coat pocket. He kicked at Wolfe and naturally Wolfe kicked back, and in doing so fell, and Kaiser made a lunge at him with the open knife and cut him on the head.

Mayor Gilbert—Jack, do you want to ask any more questions?

Kaiser—No, he's just telling the same story as the first one. I'll have the other four in the case before long.

Lizzie Kaiser, the cause of the trouble, testified as follows: "I met Fred Wolfe and told him I was waiting on Anderson's milk wagon to go to Anderson's house in the country. Wolfe said to me 'come and go up on the hill with me; I've got a cartwheel for you if you do.' I replied 'no I don't go on the hill any more. Fred often said if I would leave home he would see that I wouldn't get left. I ran when I saw pap coming and he and Fred had a row and pap stabbed him. Fred had a knife too, but he threw it away."

Turning she said "you know you did, Fred," while Kaiser added: "Yes he had and he tried to stab me, but I was too quick for him." This created such a laugh that Chief Gill had to demand order.

Wolfe testified that he just met Lizzie by accident and was talking on Walnut street when she saw her father coming and said: "My God Fred, there comes pap; I must run," and started away. Kaiser came up to me and said "so you're one of those — that's leading my Lizzie away from home." "I stuttered in trying to explain," said Wolfe, who has an impediment in his speech, "and Kaiser said 'I'll kill you you — — — I tripped on his leg when he kicked me and I went down. He reached down and cut me.'"

Kaiser—Didn't you call me "a peg leg — — —?"

Wolfe—No sir.

"And didn't you kick me first?"

"Not until you came at me with the knife."

Kaiser—Well then I'm a liar and you're a gentleman.

Kaiser was given the opportunity of going on the stand in his own behalf, but said he had no other statements to make. He would have his innings he said when he got his four witnesses. "They told the patrolman the whole story this afternoon," he said. "Well they were not men enough to come here and tell it tonight," replied Mayor Gilbert.

The mayor decided to put Kaiser under $500 bond and as the crowd left the prisoner walked over to his daughter, a girl of 16, and shaking his finger at her said "I'll fix you for swearing against me."

The girl commenced crying and said she had not sworn to anything but the truth.

"All you could say was that you saw me stab him," replied the angry Jack, and he stamped out and into his cell, while his wife said it was all a one-sided affair, and that they had no witnesses. As it was thought useless no effort was made to get bond and Kaiser was taken to Lisbon jail by Chief Gill this morning.

FORECLOSED THE MORTGAGE.

H. B. Baldwin, of Salineville, Asked to Pay Up.

Special to News Review.

LISBON, June 4.—A case involving $14,000 was filed in court here today.

The plaintiffs are John, Richard and Phila Gilson, and the defendant is H. B. Baldwin, of Salineville. Two years ago he borrowed from them $14,850 and gave as security a mortgage on 301 acres of land, including the mining privileges. F. S. Miller, W. B. Alexander, Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company and Wick Banking company have some interest in the land, and the plaintiffs want them to make this clear in court, as they believe they are subordinate to their claim.

ENJOYING CONFINEMENT.

There is a Pretty Lot of Prisoners at City Hall.

The register at city hall shows that Tim Burns, young Coulson, Patrick O'Rourke, Jack Kaiser and George Teal are behind the bars, and observation proves that they are making the best of it. Taken as a whole they are not pretty, and no one would ever suspect them of gaining the prize in a beauty show, but they are an entertaining lot, and never miss an opportunity for fun. Deprived of all unnecessary clothing they box and jump, and argue, making the hours go by as quickly as possible. The police say they have never seen a more congenial crowd in the jail.

Money for His Hay.

Robert Louthan, of New Garden, entered suit today in Squire Rose's court against McGhie & Moore to recover $98.83. Plaintiff claims he shipped a carload of hay to the Beaver Falls produce company, according to instructions of the defendants, and files his statement in court as evidence. The defense is that McGhie and Moore merely went security for the purchasers who are worth judgment, and that Louthan made no effort to collect from the proper party. The case will be heard on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

The case of John S. Dixon versus Ferd Oschmann will be heard before Squire Rose tomorrow morning.

Settling a Bet.

A good story is told of two well known young men in the city who delight in laying a wager whenever they can get someone to differ from their opinion. Yesterday they fell out, the first time in years, one arguing that it was warmer in Pittsburgh than in East Liverpool. As they were well acquainted with this temperature they decided the only way to settle the bet was to visit Pittsburgh. Accordingly they boarded the afternoon train, and after spending several hours on the scorching streets of the city decided they were foolish enough to wear gum boots on the Fourth of July.

The River Is Falling.

Navigation is almost suspended on the river today, only the smaller boats daring to venture out. The Bedford is attempting to get up with a light cargo and a small list of passengers, and rivermen are of the opinion that it will not go far beyond this point. The river dropped three inches last night, and is still falling. A heavy rain may do some good, but not much, and it will necessarily be general on the western slope of the mountains to raise the river to a boating stage.

A Scarcity of Fires.

It has been noticeable that there have been no fires recently, but few would think that a month had elapsed since the last blaze of consequence. Yet it has, and the records of the fire department show that there have been no calls during that time.

Mr. Brown in Washington.

A Washington correspondent sent out the startling intelligence last night that J. H. Brown, of East Liverpool, was in the city.

PAT AND HIS HATCHET

Told a Story of Long Suffering and Sorrow,

BUT THE CHIEF HAD HIS DOURT

And Going to O'Rourke's House Found That There Are Two Sides to Every Story—The Wife Had Her Little Narrative, and Patrick Is Now in Confinement and His Bare Feet.

Patrick O'Rourke walked into city hall last night with blood on his head and a hatchet in his hand. Tears streamed down his weather beaten cheeks and he presented the appearance of a man who had been down through the small end of a thrashing machine.

Upon demand Patrick told his story, saying that he had been shamefully abused, and wanted justice. Carefully drawing up one suspender, and shifting uneasily in his shoeless socks, he said that his wife was the cause of all his woes and wounds. The story he told was harrowing, and he exhibited the hatchet in a tragic manner as the weapon with which the partner who had sworn to love and obey him had attempted to end his earthly career. But Mayor Gilbert and Chief Gill have heard such stories before, and Patrick was locked up while the chief investigated. As he was communing with Jack Kaiser, and the tears of the two were mingled together, the chief found the other side of the story. The wife claimed that Patrick had been enjoying the somewhat questionable amusement of throwing the washboard at her, and after exhausting the stock of other missiles he had seized the hatchet and chased her into the yard. Then she turned, and catching up that true and tried friend of all women, the broom, had dealt him a telling blow. The red blood flowed, and he went to city hall swearing vengeance. She promised to put in a charge this morning, and Patrick was permitted to stay in jail over night.

Mrs. O'Rourke was at city hall bright and early this morning to keep her promise to the chief. She placed a charge under the state law against her husband, and he will likely get a trip to Lisbon.

In a short time another Pat, who said his last name was Mooney, walked into city hall. He was afraid William McKee Gallagher, known to fame as Nigger Boyd, was going to thrash him, and he wanted protection. The pair had been fighting in a house, the location of which Patrick neglected to state, and according to the yarn Boyd had gathered a few companions, and was following Patrick. He swore out a warrant for assault and battery.

Shaking Up Old Lisbon.

Special to the News Review.
LISBON, June 4.—Sixteen cold rollers employed at the tin mill struck yesterday because of wages, and after the company had denied their demands they were offered their old places. They refused, and new men were secured today. Last night the town was filled with drunken men, and it seemed as though hades had been let loose. The number of arrests were 15. They will be heard tonight.

A Narrow Escape.

A young man whose name is not known had a narrow escape from being ground to pieces under the wheels of a freight train at the Leith works last night. He was a wanderer looking for a ride, and braved the danger in the face of the fact that the train was moving at a high rate of speed. He caught the handle, but his foot slipped through the step, and he was carried to the water works before he recovered himself.

Will Send Them Back.

Policemen Whan and Meador are sending back the hats which completed their new uniforms. The statement was made that they would get a new style but this is not true. One of the hats was damaged and the other was not a fit. The finest will continue as they started out, each man dressed alike.

Pension Day.

Pensioners were on hand in full numbers in the various offices in the city today. At 10:20 a. m. 103 men and women had signed the pay roll in Magistrate Rose's office. The average pension for the three months will reach the sum of $30, putting considerable money in circulation.

A Great Theologian.

Doctor Gerberching, of the Chicago Theological seminary, is expected in this city tomorrow evening, he will address the mission league of the German Evangelical Lutheran church.

CARL BROWN and Mr. Covey are doing a lot of talking these days, but that is all.

THEY say that William C. Whitney wants to be the next president. Poor William! How he will be disappointed.

THE platform on which Ohio Republicans stand is the manly statement of men who want good government. No issue is slighted. They are all included in a way which will not allow their meaning to be mistaken.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD, the blatant, has broken out again in Illinois, vil-lifying the supreme court, and talking all manner of nonsense. It will be a happy day for the country when Altgeld is retired to private life.

THE few Republicans and the host of Democrats who are attempting to array Governor McKinley against Mr.
Foraker should hide themselves in the clefts of the rocks. They are of no more use, and their occupation is gone.

A CAREFUL estimate of the financial standing of our Uncle Sam shows that he will be behind his business about $50,000,000 when the accounts for the fiscal year are closed. That is how well the Democrats have been reducing the surplus.

OHIO'S POSITION.

When the Republicans of Ohio build a platform they build out their stock of convictions, and make it firm and strong. In mentioning the tariff this year these words are used:

"We denounce the present Democratic administration, whose vicious, vacillating course has brought us distress at home and humiliation abroad.
It has inaugurated a policy looking toward ultimate free trade, which has deranged business, crippled our industries, distressed our homes and dealt labor a serious blow. With deplorable incompetency it has failed to raise enough revenue to run the government and has had to borrow in less than two years $162,000,000, mainly to pay ordinary running expenses, selling in secret to favored foreign syn-dicates the bonds of the government at prices far below their actual value."

That is our position. We want a tariff for protection as much as we want it to pay expenses. It is a necessary adjunct to good government, and to keep ahead of expenses we must have it.

VICTIMS OF THE HEAT.

Twenty-Five New Yorkers Perish In Five Days.

THE HEAT RECORD BROKEN.

The First Time So Many Hot Days Have Occurred In Succession In New York.
Many Prostrations Reported—Reports From Other Places.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A cool easterly breeze has sprung up and it is hoped put an end to hot record breaking days for a season at least. For five days the mercury has ranged from 70 to 95 above zero and sweltering humanity have longed in vain for a breath of fresh air. Ambulance bells have rung and surgeons have been kept busy attending persons in all parts of the city who have been overheated.

Not only have the records been broken for the 30th and 31st of May and the 1st, 2d and 3d of June, but a much more important record has been smashed. This is a grand total of five record-breaking days in succession.
Never before in the history of the local weather department has anything of this nature occurred before. It is safe to say that at least 25 people have died during the past five days as a result of the heated term, and that over 150 have been prostrated and taken to the different hospitals of the city. A good many of those taken to the different public institutions will not recover.

The nearest to the intense heat was June 3, 1884, when the thermometer registered 86. The death list for yesterday is one of the longest on record.
Thus far ten people have been carried off the streets dead, and 11 more are in a precarious condition.
As early as 10 o'clock victims began to succumb to the heat. It was then 80 above, and the indicator kept climbing until at 2:30 it marked the 90 point.
The indicators stood stationary for a brief space of time, and then began to move slowly but steadily downward.
Clouds began to gather, and at 3:30 a delightful shower came up. The rain came down in torrents for a short time, cooling the atmosphere and the hot pavements and sidewalks of the streets.
Within an hour from the time the highest point of the thermometer for the city had been reached a drop of 20 points had been recorded.

The following is a list of yesterday's deaths: John Smith, laborer; Loretta Johnson, 4 months old; William Kelly, laborer; Robert Montgomery, laborer; George Frederick, 6 months old; Nedda Krosinsky, 2 years old; Louise Kayville, 11 months old; Carobolt, 14 months old; Anthony Copeland, 3 years old; Katharine Gairing, landress, and Thomas Lunge, laborer.

Eleven people were prostrated in this city and ten in Brooklyn.

BALTIMORE—There have been four fatal cases of prostration by the heat.
The thermometer marked 95 degrees.

PHILADELPHIA—Seven deaths is the addition to the heated term's fatalities.
There were nearly 50 prostrations about one-third of which number was made up of policemen and firemen, who held their annual parade, marching under the broiling sun for several hours.
The fatal cases were principally infants and old persons. The maximum temperature was 96.

WASHINGTON—The energies of the hospitals were taxed in caring for the large number of those who suffered from the effects of the heat. The thermometer reached a maximum of 95 degrees.

RANTOUL, Ills.—The thermometer reached 100 in the shade here.

DETROIT—The mercury reached 96.4.

CINCINNATI—The mercury reached the maximum of 97.

CHICAGO—Three have died here of the heat, besides many prostrations. The thermometer went to 96.

INDIANAPOLIS—The weather reached 100 here.

Commencement Week at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 4.—Gradauation week at the Naval academy began with the official reception of the board of visitors. The reception took place in the open space in front of the superintendent's residence, and the cadets were paraded as a battalion under Lieutenant Haesles. The board was escorted through the grounds and buildings by the heads of the departments, all officers being in full dress.

Killed by a Premature Explosion.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—By a premature explosion of dynamite in a soapstone quarry at Lafayette, a small town in the suburbs of this city, Mandecolia Menekase, aged 20 years, was instantly killed and Joseph Jenkerer was fatally injured. The men had been at work but a short time when the explosion occurred. They were the only persons in the pit at the time.

A MURDEROUS BROTHER.

He Tried to Kill His Sister at Loveland, O.

LOVELAND, O., June 4.—Samuel Anderson, a plasterer living with his father and about 30 years old, has tried to kill his sister with a spring-back knife. He was cutting a small fruit tree in the front yard, and his sister told him to stop. He paid no attention to her, when she threw a little water on him. He jumped up and chased her into the house. She locked the door and he broke it down and stabbed her in the back. The blade struck a corset stay and glanced off and penetrated the back between the shoulders.

Dr. William Scott was sent for and dressed the wound. Sam Anderson was arrested at the old mill dam by the major and marshal, and when searched had two knives, one being a new long spring-back. He was placed behind the bars in the village jail.

A WHOLE FAMILY INSANE.

Arrests Made Which Prevent a Fanatical Murder In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 4.—An entire family of seven have been taken into custody charged with insanity. The family consists of Henry Buchwald, his wife, Charlotte Buchwald, his wife, and three small children.

All of the members of the family are strong believers in the spiritualistic faith, and have been locked in their home at No. 3 Weaver street for over a week holding wildly insane spiritualistic seances, one of the daughters laboring under the hallucination that she is a spirit, and another member of the family that the spirit must be sacrificed.
The spirit was perfectly willing to be sacrificed, but the arrival of the sheriff's

Kept House In a Corner.

MARION, O., June 4.—The infirmity directors of this county, in responding to a call for help, found Eliza Shoemaker, aged 26, keeping house in an old dilapidated corncob on a remote corner of a farm of Mr. Count, near Prospect, this county. She has been boarding the colored woodchoppers and claims her home is in Hocking county, this state, where she will be removed. There was no other bed nor bedding in the crib, and only an old boxstove to cook on.
Her boarders, it appears, slept on the ground.

The assignment is due to the recent decision of the court holding the Kelley's liabilities unknown.

dependently.

A TOWN WIPED OUT.

Forest Fires Raging In the Vicinity of Bradford, Pa.

OTHER VILLAGES THREATENED.

Oil Rigs and Forests Being Swept Away by the Fierce Flames—People Fleeing Before the Fire to Places of Safety.
Oil Pumps Missing.

BRADFORD, Pa., June 4.—Coon Run, a small settlement ten miles south of here in the heart of the oil fields, has been wiped off the face of the earth by the flames. People had to flee for their lives, and great excitement prevailed.
The fire came so suddenly that many women and children were panic-stricken and became unable to move, and had to be carried to places of safety in the clearings.

Passengers over the Pittsburg and Western road say the woods for ten miles in the oil field is a roaring mass of flames. Conductor Tanks says the people on the oil leases are fleeing for safety, but the fire spread so quickly that he cannot see how all of them could have been saved. Several oil pumps are missing.

The woods about Ormsby is on fire and a number of oil rigs have been destroyed. All communication has been cut off. Fires are reported along the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad as far as Allegheny, N. Y.
On the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg road, at Dent, the property of the Emery Oil company is threatened. Oil rigs all through that section have been burned, as well as millions of feet of standing timber. The most fear is felt at Koutierford Run, where 1,000 pounds of nitroglycerin is stored.

A telephone message via Olean, N.
Y., from Knapp's Creek, says that the leases of Messrs. Burns, Russell and Cris have been swept off and 50 rigs are destroyed. Several dwelling houses have burned, and should any wind arise it will likely carry the flames to Knapp's Creek and destroy the town.
Knapp's Creek is located midway on the mountain between Bradford and Olean on the W. N. Y. & P. railroad and has a population of 1,000.

At the state line, on the Western New York and Pennsylvania railroad, seven dwellings, together with their contents, and a large amount of lumber have been consumed. A lumber camp composed of seven dwellings at Oil Valley junction was destroyed, together with thousands of dollars' worth of lumber.

The fire may now be said to extend over the entire northern oil field of Pennsylvania. It is impossible as yet to give any computation of the damage or the number of deaths, on account of the great scope of country which the fire covers.

A Russell City special says: Everything between Coon Run and Russell City is burned, including all rigs and tanks of the Elk Oil company, station and Standard pump station. Fire has crossed the railroad north of Russell and is sweeping everything before it with a strong wind from the west. If they don't get a change Russell City will be wiped out.

A Kane, Pa., special says: Never before has this place been threatened with so much destruction. The forests have been on fire since Saturday and all efforts to check the flames have proven unavailing. The fire has spread to West Kane, the heat being so intense that the fighters were driven back, and the people began to desert their homes for places of safety. Every spring is dried up and the place is at the mercy of the flames. The fire is now raging in the oil field and has burned the oil well rigs owned by the Griffith company. The Union Oil company has lost six rigs and three tanks of oil. James Campbell's sawmill and over 1,000,000 feet of logs have been destroyed.

STONE'S NAME MENTIONED.

The Chicago Editor Talked of For Gresham's Place.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Melville E.
Stone may be the next secretary of state. His name has been mentioned in connection with the seat in the cabinet left vacant by the death of Secretary Gresham, but it was not commonly believed that there was much likelihood of his securing the honor. However, rumors that he is to be the man are repeated with such persistency as to lend at least the color of reliability to their fountain source.

Mr. Stone is the general manager of the Associated Press, having succeeded William Henry Smith. He has acquired a competency sufficient to make his probable entrance into Washington officialdom a matter of piquant interest to society at the capital.

alded 10-round fight between Joe tannach of Providence, R. I., proved to be the greatest pugilistic fiasco ever presented to the Baltimore public. The first round demonstrated the fact that Cattannach was no good. A tap in the second round ended it.

KENRICK IS DEPOSED.

The Pope Removes the St. Louis Archbishop.

KAIN IS GIVEN THE PLACE.

The Coadjutor Now Takes Full Charge of the Archdiocese—The Venerable Prelate Has Long Had Differences With Those in Power at the Vatican.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—The removal of Archbishop Kenrick of this city by the pope, and the appointment of his coadjutor, the Most Rev. John J. Kain, formerly Bishop of Wheeling, in his stead, will effectually retire Archbishop Kenrick from all rights, titles and privileges obtaining to the archbishopric of St. Louis. Under supplementary instructions expected from the propaganda an order will come to provide a fitting anodyne for him out of the resources of the archdiocese.

Though a matter of urgent necessity, the compulsory retirement of the venerable metropolitan comes as a rude shock to the Catholics of his diocese. Archbishop Kenrick was in no sense provincial. His attitude at the Vatican council, declaring against the dogmas of papal infallibility, and the immaculate conception gained him a world-wide reputation and involved him in controversies with the greatest theologians within and without his church.

His attitude at the conclave begot him the unending opposition of the authorities at Rome. This feeling has cropped out frequently, notably in the removal to Philadelphia of Archbishop Ryan, whom Archbishop Kenrick would have been his successor. Since that time there has been an unbroken silence between the metropolitan of St. Louis and his ecclesiastical superiors at Rome. The deposition of retirement of Archbishop Kenrick is the result of a petition to the propaganda, setting forth his mental incapacity and the dangerous condition of the business affairs of the diocese.

Archbishop Kenrick's mental infirmity displayed itself in the form of a violent opposition to his coadjutor. He regarded him as an interloper and refused at times to eat at the same table or sit in the same room with him. He was persistent in his refusal to transact business matters suggested to him by his assistant. The situation was intolerable from a business standpoint, and Archbishop Kain was forced to appeal for help to Rome.

As a result of the petition the propaganda commissioned Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, the man who most of all others had been friendly to Kenrick and shared his affection, to come to St. Louis and report on his mental condition.

The archbishop of Philadelphia came here one month ago and tried by every means in his power to get his venerable superior to do just as he wished. But the old archbishop was stubborn. He refused to make a will or to transfer his trusteeship of church property to his successor. There was nothing for Archbishop Ryan to do but to report to Rome that the archbishop was unfit to conduct the affairs of the diocese.

The propaganda was not long in acting. But Archbishop Kain, fearful lest the hot weather would carry off the old archbishop before Rome acted and leave the affairs of the diocese in a precarious condition, filed the local legal proceedings to remove the archbishop from the trusteeship of church property. The proceedings will now in all probability lapse, as there is no further necessity for pushing them. The proceedings had hardly been filed when Archbishop Kain received word from Rome that his superior had been deposed and he was the new archbishop of St. Louis.

POPE IN GOOD HEALTH.

Cardinal Gibbons Talks In Rome on His Visit.

ROME, June 4.—Cardinal Gibbons has had a private audience lasting 40 minutes with the pope. The latter said that he had not seen the pope since 1886, and was surprised at his excellent health. Cardinal Gibbons also said that he was astonished at the mental vivacity of the pope, who, in spite of his age, has the strength of his intellect unimpaired. Continuing, the cardinal remarked:

"He showed surprising freshness of memory, recalling even the small details of religious, social and scholastic matters concerning the United States and especially the diocese of Baltimore." Cardinal Gibbons was asked what questions had been discussed during his audience with the pope, and he said: "In this matter, I must preserve the utmost reserve." He added that the pope had invited him to further audience before he left Rome in order to discuss the present and future religious and social conditions of the United States in which the pope assured the cardinal he took the keenest interest.

The missionaries are reported to be safe in the officials' quarters.

A LOSS OF $31,000.

Only One Person Killed by the Explosion at Parkersburg.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 5.—It has been learned from Mr. Hinds, the owner of the nitro glycerin which exploded near here, that instead of there being but 100 quarts on the boat there were 800 quarts. He states that he left Pittsburgh with 850 quarts and took 50 quarts off at Marietta. The quantity of the explosive was sufficient to blow up every house in the city.

So far the only person known to have been killed is Robert Cooley, the young man who was in charge of the boat. A man named George Munn, working at the Parkersburg mill, saw the boat going up the Kanawha. In an instant there was nothing left of either boat or man. Cooley's home was in Pittsburgh, and he has been down here several times before with explosives.

At the churches prayers were offered in thanks for the miraculous escapes. While there was intense excitement, the number of seriously wounded is not half a dozen. There was no fire except a slight blaze at the Parkersburg mill, soon extinguished.

The course of the air in motion was as odd as a cyclone's freaks. In houses a stairway would be wrenched, an odd pane of glass broken, a door unfastened, a chimney blown down, while in other places the destruction was very heavy. The houses blown down, seven in number, are complete wrecks.

Up to the present time the estimated losses are about $31,000. Individual losses in plateglass windows, furniture and merchants' stock are about $1,000. Hundreds of people have been here to see the wrecks. The explosion was distinctly heard 14 miles. There is talk of endeavoring to recover from Hinds the amount of damage sustained.

His Neck Should Be Stretched.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 4.—A man named Zerby and his wife—three miles north of Bristol, Elkhart county, Ind., over the Michigan line. With them lived his sister's orphaned daughter, aged 7. The child was outraged by the brute Zerby, then beaten into insensibility, and by husband and wife carried one mile north of their home and thrown into a deep ditch to die. The child regained consciousness and went to a neighbor's.

WELLSVILLE.

A HOT MEETING.
Council Only Did What Was Absolutely Necessary.
The spacious chamber was too hot for council to spend a great portion of its time in deliberation last night, and business was rushed through.
The report of Mayor Sinclair proved that he had collected fines to the amount of $168, a good showing, and $3.25 had been gathered in for licenses.
One dollar was the amount of his expenditures. After the report was adopted the application of a street merchant to operate a corn popper was read and caused no end of discussion. He was willing to pay a license fee, but some councilmen believed Wellsville could get along very well without a popper. At length it was decided to charge him $5 a month, and if he wanted to pay that amount he could start his machine. The committee reported on the proposed extension of Liverpool street, and as was expected an argument resulted. The report was returned, with the injunction that they make the most favorable bargain possible in writing from the land in question.
It was decided to have a culvert constructed at Fifth street, and W. C.
Frazier was chosen poor director. Mr.
Bowers objected to the manner in which water is wasted at the intersection of Maine and Third streets, and after leaving it with the water committee, council adjourned.

HIT WITH A BRICK.
A Liverpool Man Assaulted in Wells-ville.
John Kennedy, an East Liverpool potter, attended a party at the Keering residence on Coal street, last night. About 10 o'clock he stepped to the door, and was immediately knocked down by a brick thrown by some one whose name is not known to the police or to Kennedy. Guests at the house found him senseless on the ground, and it was two hours before he was sufficiently recovered to tell his story. No cause is assigned for the assault.

GATHERING THEM IN.
The Authorities Are Collecting Many Old Fines.
Mayor Sinclair has started his campaign against the men and women who have broken the law, and made rosy promises when he talked about the amount of their fines. Some of these people are in position to pay, and the mayor is not going to let the grass grow under his feet. An execution usually has the desired effect, and the money is paid. Others make more promises, and must take the consequences.

Personal.
Mrs. H. W. Lowry, wife of Reverend Lowry, returned today from Youngstown, where she has been at the bedside of her nephew who is very ill.

Broke His Bicycle.
Charles Denslow was riding on Main street near Eighth this morning when he attempted to pass a farmer's wagon. One of the horses scared at the wheel, and lifting its foot sent Denslow and his silent steed to earth.
He was not badly hurt, but the bicycle was damaged. It is the first accident of its kind known here.

Buried in Illinois.
The remains of the late Mrs.
Stevens, who died on Sunday at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Wooster, Sixth and Broadway, were taken to the old home at Vermont, Ill., for interment. Mrs. Wooster accompanied the body. Deceased has been a patient sufferer, although an invalid for many years.

A Picnic Party.
A large party of young people are enjoying today at the Howard place over the river. They set out this morning armed with all that goes to make up a pleasant picnic party, and are spending a delightful day.

George Washington Arrested.
Two colored individual, one of them giving the name of George Washington, were arrested for bathing in the river. Complaint was made, and they were gathered in. Each got $1 and costs, and they are still in jail.

Scored the Council.
A street faker, who was prevented by the police from advertising his business by bills, scored council on the square last night. He called the members many pet names and seemed very angry.

Play or Shut Up.
The manager of the Hill Tops Juniors says they have challenged the Meteors three times and they would not accept but are always bluffing through the papers. He wants them to play for $10 or shut up.

A Typesetting Benedicet.
On tomorrow afternoon, Mr. Wilbur Cartier, a popular printer on the Wheeling Intelligencer, will secure his most important take off the matrimonial book, have the "thirty" of single blessedness called out by the religious editor, and be showered with wishes for the success of his first edition. In other words he will take unto himself a wife. The happy lady is Miss Matilda Henneman, a well known Wheeling lady, who is now staying at the home of her sister, Mrs.
Charles Stevens, Third street. The ceremony will be performed in this city at the home of Rev. J. C. Taggart, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cartier will leave for Wheeling, where they will reside.

The Only Show.
The educated ponies and dogs at the West End park amused and delighted a large audience last evening, the intelligence of the animals bringing forth round after round of applause from the interested spectators. The many special features of the performance, never before presented to an East Liverpool audience, delighted the children, and old folks, too, who were there. The show is by long odds the best of its character ever seen in the city, and those who want a clean evening of amusement should not miss the performance this evening.

A Case at Beaver.
The trial of the Martin case in Lisbon will cripple the street car line because of the large number of employes who have been subpoenaed to testify.
The extra men will all be pressed into service, and by this means it is thought the line will be in working order. All the witnesses summoned to Lisbon this week are objecting because of the hot drive over the hills.

Going to Wed.

riage licenses were issued today:

run-down, or overworked, and those who suffer from backache, headache, dragging-down sensations in the limbs, and many other symptoms of de-rangment of the female functions can find renewed strength and health by taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the pains and aches, the periods of melancholy and sleeplessness—nothing can do you so much permanent good as this vegetable compound. You save the doctor's fee, as well as your modesty, by purchasing this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce. For a great many years Dr. R. V. Pierce (chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Sanitary Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.) made a specialty of the diseases of women, and from his large experience he was able to compound a "Prescription" which acted directly upon the special internal parts of women. When in doubt as to your ailment consult him. It will cost you nothing. A Book on "Woman and Her Diseases," published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., is of interest to all women of the special parts. I suffered for years with pain in my back, never a night was I free. At your request I commenced treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I could not sleep on a mattress, it seemed as though it would kill me. Since taking the medicine I can sleep anywhere. I am perfectly well. I would not be placed in my former condition for any money. Gratefully yours, Mrs. J. H. Parker

In Squire Morley's Court.
William Black this morning settled his fine of $5 and costs before Squire Morley for cruelty to animals. Cases of this kind are scarce.
S. J. Patterson paid Squire Morley $5 and costs this morning for allowing his boy to remain away from school last month.
The Squire will marry a couple tomorrow, and secure a license for another couple today.

Marvelous Results.
From a letter written by Rev. J.
Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract:
"I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down by La Grippe.
Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at T. L. Pott's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.

ARE SAD FACED MEN.
THIS IS WHAT ONE OF THE CRAFT SAYS OF DEEP SEA DIVERS.
A Life That Isn't Exactly Jolly—A Veteran Tells of Experiences He and Other Divers Have Had—A Close Shave—Fairly-land on the Ocean's Bottom.
"I suppose you sometimes see some fearful sights in wrecks," said a reporter to a veteran deep sea diver.
"Yes, but you get used to 'em when you have been in the business long.
When I first started diving, I was sent down to report a wreck. Nobody was supposed to have been drowned when the vessel went down, but when I went into the cabin the first thing I saw was the body of a man seated at the table.
The water was very clear and magnified him until he looked about four times his natural size. His hand was upon the shoulder of a little boy, who was sitting on his knee. It was my first experience with dead bodies, and it gave me a shock. Now I don't mind 'em at all.
Most of the tales you hear about groups of dead people sittin' round quite natural in a cabin are lies. A body will rise after being in the water a couple of weeks and be found floating up against the ceiling. When they have their legs under a table, they sometimes sit right where they are until their bodies decay away, because they are held down by the table, which is usually screwed to the floor."
"An English diver I knew once had a pretty nasty experience with sharks. He was diving in a wreck which had been loaded with live cattle. When she had been down at the bottom for a month or so, the bodies of the cattle became light and floated up against the hatch-ways. As soon as he started the after hatch, the cattle began to float out and up to the surface of the water. The locality was infested with sharks, and they soon began to gather round the hatchway, grabbing the cattle as they came out and following them up to the surface, fighting among themselves.
Some of the cattle had been tied, and they floated out as far as their ropes would allow. The sharks gathered round them and began to tear them to pieces.
Pretty soon they began to fight, and poor Marsh—that was his name—was afraid to go up for fear he might be attacked and afraid to stay down because one snap of a shark's mouth would have severed his air hose in a twinkling. He gave the signal to be hauled up in a hurry and went off among the school of sharks and through them. In going through a shark snapped at him and took off his right hand, so that he had to give up the business."

"What's the narrowest escape you ever had?"
"Well, about the closest shave that I remember was when I was putting some copper on a steamer's bottom while she was in dock. I took some plates down with me and did some work on one side of the hull, after which I wanted to put some plates on the other side. The vessel was about three feet off the bottom.
I crawled underneath, dragging some plates after me. When I had been working for some time, I noticed my air was getting short, so I went to try to get under the keel again to be hauled up. I found the steamer nearly on the bottom and squeezing my air hose between her keel and the ground. The tide was giving out, and she had gradually sunk until she was almost aground. I had forgotten all about the tide, and when I pulled the hose I found it would not budge an inch. I can tell you I scared is no word for how I felt."

"If the bottom had been soft, it would not have mattered so much, but it was rock, and the hose was gripped like a vice. There was nothing to do but wait.
If she fell any lower, the air would be entirely shut off, and I would simply have to die. You can bet I shall never forget those few minutes when I was waiting to see whether she rose or fell.
My head felt as though it was bursting and my nose and ears began to bleed.
Presently I felt the air getting a little fresher. I took heart, and soon she began to rise with the turn of the tide.
There was plenty of time for me to get my nerve back before she was high enough off the bottom for me to crawl under. I didn't get it back, however, but just stood there trembling until I could squeeze under her bottom and give the signal to be hauled up. For weeks after that I was a sick man, and my hearing has never been right since."

"Sometimes, especially in tropical waters, the bottom of the sea is a lovely sight. I have seen a forest of kelp and sea-weed gently waving with the tide which looked like fairyland. The dim light and the bright colored fish darting about make it look all the more beautiful. A bit of seaweed on land does not amount to much, but if you see a regular forest of it growing it looks very different."
"If you stand still for a minute, the fish will swim all around you and examine you just as a lot of human beings would look at some strange animal. At the slightest movement they whisk their tails and not a living thing is to be seen."
"It takes the life out of a man somehow, diving does, and I never knew a diver who did much smiling. They are all rather grave, sober faced men."— New York Tribune.

Constituent Parts of a Cord of Wood.
A cord of fairly seasoned wood weighs about 4,000 pounds. If subjected to a heat of between 700 and 800 degrees it resolves into three distinct products—charcoal, pyrolygneous acid and gases.
In order to properly bring this change about it is necessary to place the wood in a kiln and apply the heat gradually for four or five days. At the end of that time the residue will be 1,000 pounds of charcoal, 2,000 pounds of pyrolygneous acid and 1,000 pounds of uncondeensed gases. The aggregate weight of these products is exactly equal to the original weight of the wood.—St. Louis Republic.

UNCLE DICK OGLESBY.
Two Characteristic Stories of the Genial Ex-Governor of Illinois.
I think it was during the Cleveland-Blaine campaign that ex-Governor Oglesby of Illinois, "Uncle Dick," as he is familiarly known, first made a stay of any length in New York.
He and a companion had a sumptuous luncheon, ordered of course by the intro-ducer, who wound up by inviting the governor to smoke. The clerk at the cigar counter handed out some fine Havana cigars. Uncle Dick was about to take one, when some thought arrested his hand, and he asked:
"What's the price of these?"
"Twenty-five cents," was the reply.
"Holy smoke!" ejaculated the governor. "Put 'em back! Put 'em back, quick!"
"But, governor, this is my treat," said his friend.
"Daren't do it! Daren't do it! Put 'em back!"
"Yes, but governor—"
"I tell you I daren't do it. Why, man, if they should ever find out in Illinois that I smoked a 25 cent cigar in New York, they'd turn me out of the church, and it would ruin me politically forever. Daren't do it! Ten cent cigars are good enough for me in New York and 5 cents at home." Uncle Dick always prided himself on his success in campaigning when called upon to reach a man's vote through his family pride.
On one of his tours he passed through a country town in Illinois, when he came suddenly upon a charming group —a comely woman with a bevy of little ones about her—in a garden with a high picket fence in front of it. He stopped short, then advanced and leaned over the front gate.
"Madam," said he in his most ingratiating way, "may I kiss these beautiful children?"
"Certainly, sir," the lady answered demurely, "there is no possible objection."
"They are lovely darlings," said Uncle Dick, after he had finished the eleventh. "I have seldom seen more beautiful babies. Are they all yours, marm?" The lady blushed deeply.
"Of course they are—the sweet little treasures. From whom else, marm, could they have inherited these limpid eyes, these rosy cheeks, these profuse curls, these comely figures and these musical voices?"
The lady continued blushing.
"By the way, marm," said Uncle Dick, "may I bother you to tell your estimable husband that Richard J.
Oglesby, Republican candidate for governor, called upon him this evening?"
"Alas, sir," quoth the lady, "I have no husband."
"But these children, madam—you surely are not a widow?"
"I fear you were mistaken, sir, when you first came up. These are not my children. This is an orphan asylum!"—

Doctors or No Doctors.
Take haphazard a number of people of both sexes and of all ages. Divide them into communities. Let the doctors of each nation have a community to themselves—this division would be indispensable because the difference which exists between the treatment prescribed, say, by a French and by an English doctor, has to be experienced to be believed.
Let the allopathists, the homeopaths, the hydropaths, the thousands and one sets of medical faddists, all have a community of their own. Give the nostrum mongers free hands. Suffer the faith healers to work, unimpeded, somewhere, their own sweet will, and amid the whole number of the communities permit one to be set apart in which no doctor of any sort or kind, regular or irregular, shall be allowed to place a foot or have a voice. If such a test were feasible, I wonder what the result would be. Or, rather, I do not wonder—I should like to have a wager depending on the issue.

I would wager that, all things being equal—position, climate, circumstances, constitution, ages—the physical history of all those communities would be pretty well of a muchness. They would all suffer from the same diseases, would be treated or be beaten by them, in much the same way, and would die at about the same age. Of this I am certain—and in this I believe that the physicians themselves would be upon my side—that the medically supervised communities would be every whit as closely acquainted with pain, disease and suffering before the curtain finally fell as that one community in which no doctors were.—All the Decayed Wood Breeds Ants.

An amateur gardener had a great deal of trouble, year after year, with a certain bed in her flower garden. It was so infested by ants that nothing could grow there, but was invariably devoured by the insects. She tried every vermin destroyer known, with boiling water and other preventives, all without success.
At length she found that a portion of the outer boarding of the shed which stood near this bed was decayed and needed renewal. When these boards were taken away, they were found to be alive with ants, which, being destroyed, disappeared from her flowers, and she has had no more annoyance from them. Often ants will get into the house closets and into the food in the same way from some de-cayed wood near at hand, in which they nest. If their source is looked up when they come they usually may be unearthed and killed.

Business Man—Can you write shorthand?
Applicant—Yes, sir.
"How many words a minute?"
"I never counted 'em, but the other day, when my wife found in my overcoat pocket a letter which she gave me to mail last fall, I took down every word she uttered as fast as she said them."

Depth.
"Professor," said the ambitious student, "I am determined to gain recognition from the world as a deep thinker.
Could you give me any advice on how to proceed?"
"None," replied the old gentleman thoughtfully, "unless you write in a subcellar."—Washington Star.
